CONTENTS

TO

PART SECOND.

PAGE.

CHRONICLE, containing brief Accounts of the various public Occurrences of the Year,—Prices of Stocks,—Lists of Births, Marriages, and Deaths,—Principal Promotions, - - - - - - - 1—255

The Drama, - - - - - - - 253

Fine Arts, - - - - - - - 326

View of the Changes proposed and adopted in the Administration of Justice in Scotland, - - - - - - - 342

History of the Physical Sciences, - - - - - 373

General View of Literature, - - - - - 417

POETRY.

The Alderman's Funeral, an English Eclogue, (Southey,) - - - i

King Ramiro, - - - - (ibid.) - - - v

Queen Orraca, - - - - (ibid.) - - - ix

The Curse of Moy, a Highland Tale, (J. B. S. Morritt,) - - xiv

The Bard's Incantation, - (Walter Scott,) - - - xxi

To a Lady, with Flowers from a Roman Wall, (ibid.) - - xxiii

The Violet, - - - (ibid.) - - ib.

The Nymph of the Mountain Stream, (Mrs Hunter,) - - xxiv

To the Evening Primrose, - (ibid.) - - - ib.

How d'ye do and Good-bye, - - - - xxv

To [illegible], - (Hon. R. W. Spencer,) - - xxvi

Epitaph on the Year 1806, - (ibid.) - - - xxvii

Hunting Song, (Walter Scott,) - - - xxviii

Ballad, (Sir Gilbert Elliot,) - - - - xxix

The Banks of Esk, (Richardson,) - - - - xxx

PAGE.

The Kitten, (Joanna Baillie,) - - - - xxxi
The Heathcock, (ibid.) - - - - xxxiv
Song, - (ibid.) - - - - - xxxv
The Resolve, (Walter Scott,) - - - - xxxvi
Elegy, - - - - - - xxxvii
Verses written at the Island of Sagur, in the Mouth of the Ganges, where human Victims are exposed by the superstitious Hindoos, (John Leyden,) - xxxviii
To Discretion, - - - - - - xxxix
Ode to the River *, - - - - - - xl
Portugueze Hymn to the Virgin Mary, "The Star of the Sea," translated at Sea, in the Santo Antonio, (John Leyden,) - - - - xli
Ode to an Indian Gold Coin, (ibid.) - - - xliii
Monte Video, - - - - - xliv
Verses on seeing the Beacon of Hume Castle give the Signal of Invasion, February, 1804, - - - - - - xlv
The Enchantress, (Southey,) from the Curse of Kehama, - - xlvi

New Publications for 1808, - - - - i—xxxii